"Activity is the only road to knowledge."

—George Bernard Shaw

Features

Certain events that command special recognition have occurred on campus during the year. At left, football homecoming queen, Becky Brown, is escorted by Jim Graham; below, the band presents its fall concert. On the opposite page, above, Dale Neaville, Rich Hill, Dick Souders, and Steve Callaway give outstanding performances in "The Deadly Game;" at lower left is a scene from the Christmas production, "Amahl and the Night Visitors;" at lower right, students enjoy a dance at the winter prom.

Music classes meet composers

College music students this year have profited from the Kansas College Cooperative Composers' Project, sponsored by Kansas State Teachers College for three junior colleges and three four-year colleges. Mr. Jean Biggs serves as coordinator for the project, which makes available to the participating schools contacts with musical artists who would not otherwise be available. Mr. Biggs, composer-in-residence at Emporia State, visits the campus bi-weekly to lecture, to demonstrate, and to conduct performing groups. Other artists visiting the campus during the year include Jean Berger, choral music; Kim Richmond, stage band; Francis McBeth, concert band; and Larry Austin, experimental music. The John Biggs Consort also demonstrated the Renaissance music and instruments.

Music-drama students present Christmas opera

The music and drama departments combined efforts and talents to stage the third annual presentation of the Christmas opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors." Four audiences enthusiastically received the production. Mrs. Edwin Clarkson and her son David played the roles of Amahl and his mother. Members of the chorus served as the shepherds, and music and drama students were cast in the role of the visitors. Drama students prepared the staging arrangements. Mr. J. Thomas Dixon directed the music groups, and Mr. Darryl Patten supervised the staging and acting.

College theatre opens season with "The Deadly Game."

The college theatre opened its 1969-1970 season with "The Deadly Game," a play of intense intrigue and suspense. The drama, written by Friedrich Durrenatt, debated and controversial writer of the late 1950's, was translated out of the German. It has proved popular with junior college theatres, having played often to the largest opening shows of recent seasons.

Homecoming Queen Becky Brown

Becky Brown, 1969 homecoming queen, is a sophomore majoring in physical education. She is secretary of the student council, a member of the young Democrats and of the Honey Bears.

As a freshman she was 1968 homecoming attendant. Becky plans to further her education at either Pittsburg State or Kansas State.

Homecoming events

The 1969 football homecoming game set the stage for an exciting evening for Becky Brown and her attendants. Following an afternoon parade in El Dorado, the queen and her attendants were presented at half-time ceremonies. The finishing touch was the homecoming dance after the game.

Campus Favorites exemplify ideal students

Campus favorites are sophomores nominated by clubs and organizations and later selected by ballot of the entire student body. Selected to the honor this year were Barbara Hodler and Jim Graham. They represent junior college students participating in campus activities. Runners-up, LOWER LEFT, were Rod Dutt and Louisa Van der Wheele; and LOWER RIGHT, were Dick Price and Nancy Engles.

Organizations

Campus organizations and groups are a vital asset to the BCCJC campus. They provide skilled leadership and a chance for students to voice their opinions and enjoy participation. During the year the clubs and groups were involved in many projects both on and off campus. At left, Mr. Havel helps a student hang his art work; below, Mr. Anderson performs the dual role of directing the pep band and playing the bass drum. On the opposite page at the top, the cheerleaders show that "they've got spirit"; below left, Richard Hill addresses the first annual journalism dinner; below right, the Newman Club, advised by Father Rowan, delivers a variety of foods to St. Joseph's Home for Thanksgiving.

Student Council

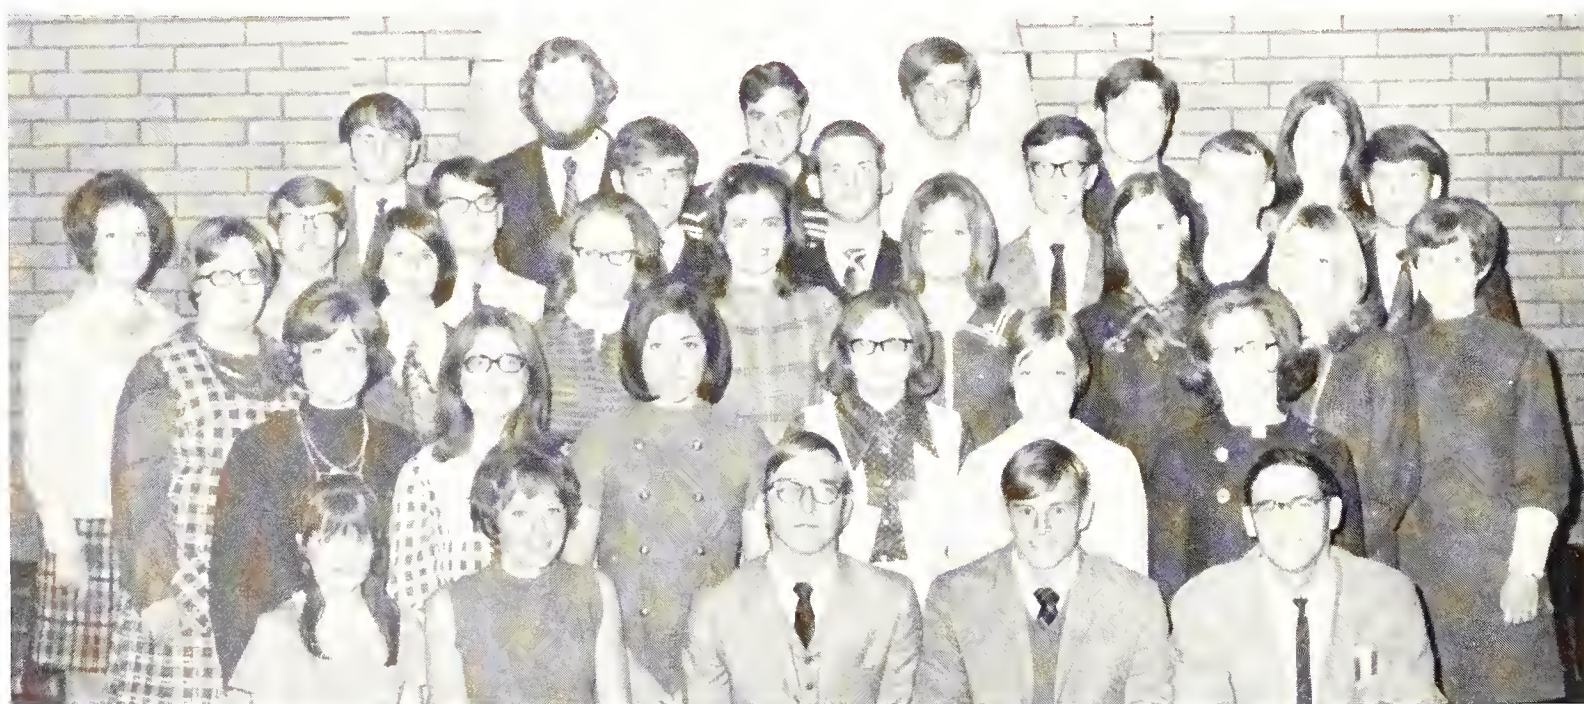

The student council, representing the student body, promotes the interests of the students and develops a closer relationship between faculty and students. Jeff Artz and his officers were elected in the spring; class officers and class and club representatives, in the fall.

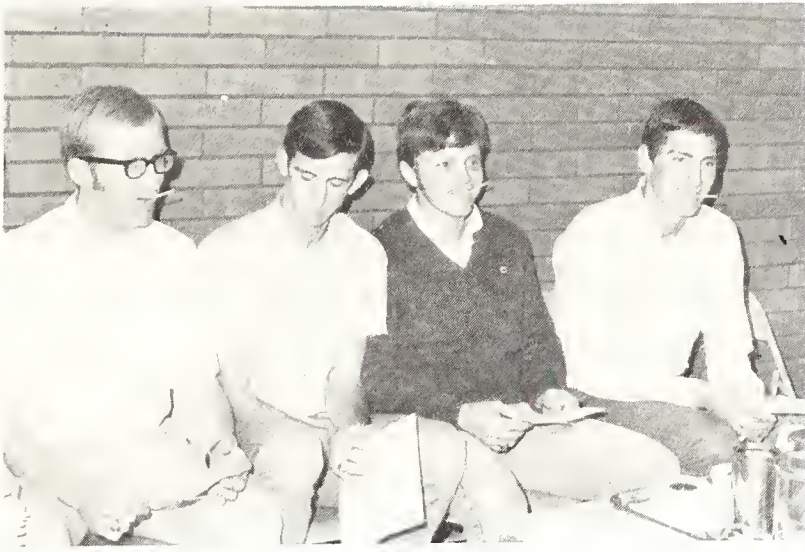

During the year the student council sponsored several events. The Red Cross blood drive received strong support; students gave a record amount of 251 pints of blood. Other activities included the football homecoming and dance, the Campus Favorites and the winter prom, and victory dances. The council climaxed the year with the spring banquet and prom.

The council revised the constitution, which was ratified and scheduled to go into effect during the 1970—1971 school year.

Journalism staffs meet deadlines

Students editing the two junior college publications struggle regularly to meet appointed deadlines. Rusty Johnston, above left, deserves special recognition as free lance photographer for the yearbook, THE GRIZZLY. Members of the news classes and of the yearbook class held the first annual banquet on Dec. 15, 1969. Bill Bidwell, advisor to THE LANTERN, presided; and Judge Charles E. Heilman addressed the group.

Collegiate 4-H

At the present time, BCCJC boasts the only JUCO Collegiate 4-H club in Kansas. The club has been very active with community service projects; among those projects were selling student directories, helping with a Christmas party, judging 4-H projects, directing leadership training, and cleaning the Red Cross Building.

Also pictured are the sponsors, Mr. Gregory and Mr. Lacey.

Flying Club

The Flying Club is a new organization on campus this year. Sponsoring the organization are Mr. Swift and Mr. Erikson. Several members of the club have done solo flying. In the top photo the officers are Doug Lamb, president; Lester Sherlock, vice-president; Sharon Goodman, secretary; and Juanita Knudsen, treasurer. Other members of the club pictured on this page are Jerry Browning, Charles Hamm, Larry Markley, John Burns, and Steve Smith.

Collegiate Political Groups

The Collegiate Political Groups on the campus have maintained regular and organized meetings throughout this year even though it was not a general election year. Both groups have had guest speakers at their meetings and have created a continuing interest in national and political matters. A greater number of students have participated this year than is usual in a non-election year.

The Juco Voices, selected by audition, is a group of students that perform poetic and prose choral readings. They spent a weekend in October as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Graves of Anthony, Kansas, for a two-day rehearsal retreat. There, they spent time preparing their repertoire for the coming year. The Voices have performed at various civic clubs and churches in El Dorado and Eureka. Between semesters, they went to South Dakota. From January 24 through February 1, they performed for civic clubs and churches, and conducted choral reading workshops in several South Dakota high schools.

Cheerleaders motivate student spirit

Enthusiasm and ability! These words describe the basis on which the cheerleaders are chosen. They represent the entire student body in athletic events and project the school as a whole to the people whom they meet. It is also their duty to build and maintain school spirit at the highest possible level. The six co-eds who were chosen this year are: Debbie Henline, Sandra Klaassen, Martha Brainard, Vicki Banister, Louisa Van der Weele, and Karan Hartman. Karan was elected head cheerleader (lower right).

1969 Grizzly winnings break thirteen-year record

The 1969 football season brought to BCCJC the first real evidence of becoming a football power in the Kansas Jayhawk Conference. With a record of four wins and six losses, Coach Nay appraised the season in two ways. First, with 28 returning players, four wins, and three games which could have gone either way, our football program is at a new height and looking forward to the future. Second, our staff and players felt we should have been at least 6-4 for the season and were disappointed that a winning season was not obtained.

Football "back" makes conference first team

Tony Anderson, left, was named to the first team offense for the 1969 football season in the Jayhawk Conference. Receiving honorable mention on the offense were Dick Graves (85), tackle; Mike Sexton (14), quarter back; and Charles Washington (80), split end. Given honorable mention on the defense were Lyle Brandon (72), tackle; Don Pete (50), linebacker; and Bob Shipman (36), end.

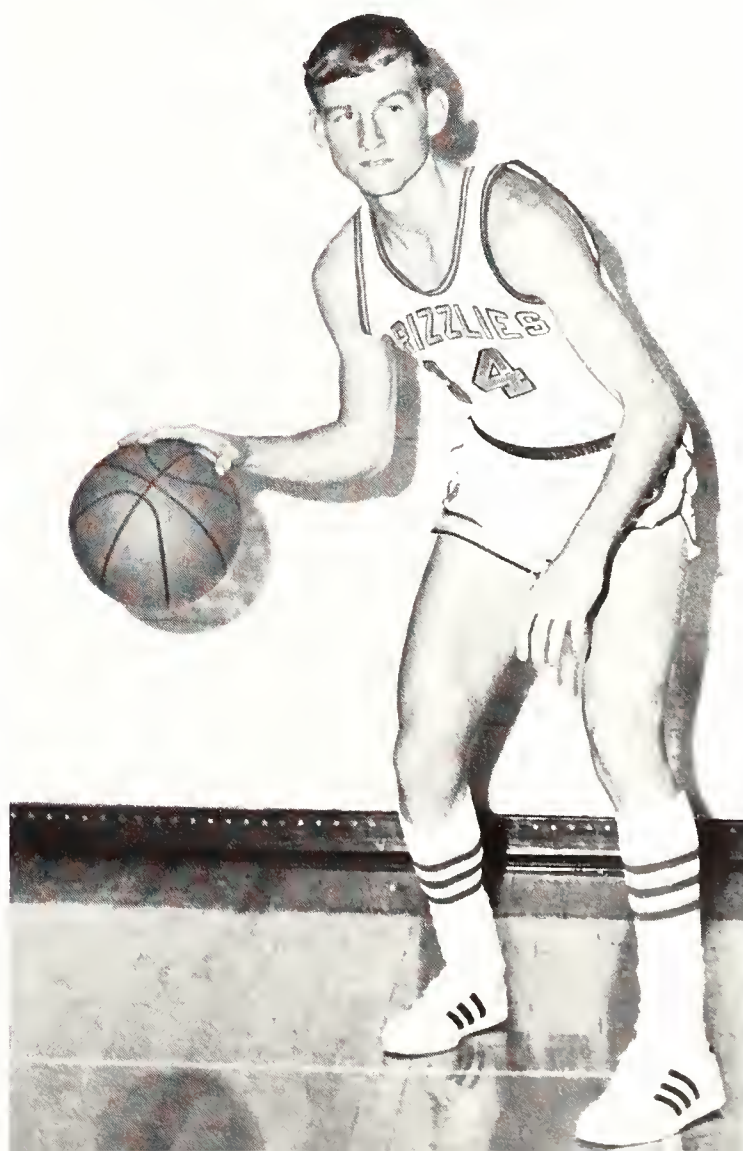

Cross country runners make All-American

John Corman, left, and Jim Graham receive from Coach Isom All-American certificates of award as well as medals for places won in the National Junior College Cross Country meet held at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in November, 1969. Corman placed sixth and Graham rated fourteenth among approximately 200 competitors who ran in the meet on a course covered with four to six inches of snow.

Basketball player named All-Conference Guard

Eldon Lawyer, sophomore guard from Cassoday, was named all-conference guard in the western division at the close of basketball season. In addition to this honor, Eldon laid claim to other records within the conference and the division. He placed fourth in the conference in free throwing, scoring 91 in 116 attempts for 83 per cent in 25 games. He ranked fifth in 14 conference games with field goals, hitting 44 of 54 shots for 82 per cent. Scoring a total of 214 points in division play and compiling an average of 15.3 points per game, Eldon ranked tenth best in that category.

Basketball

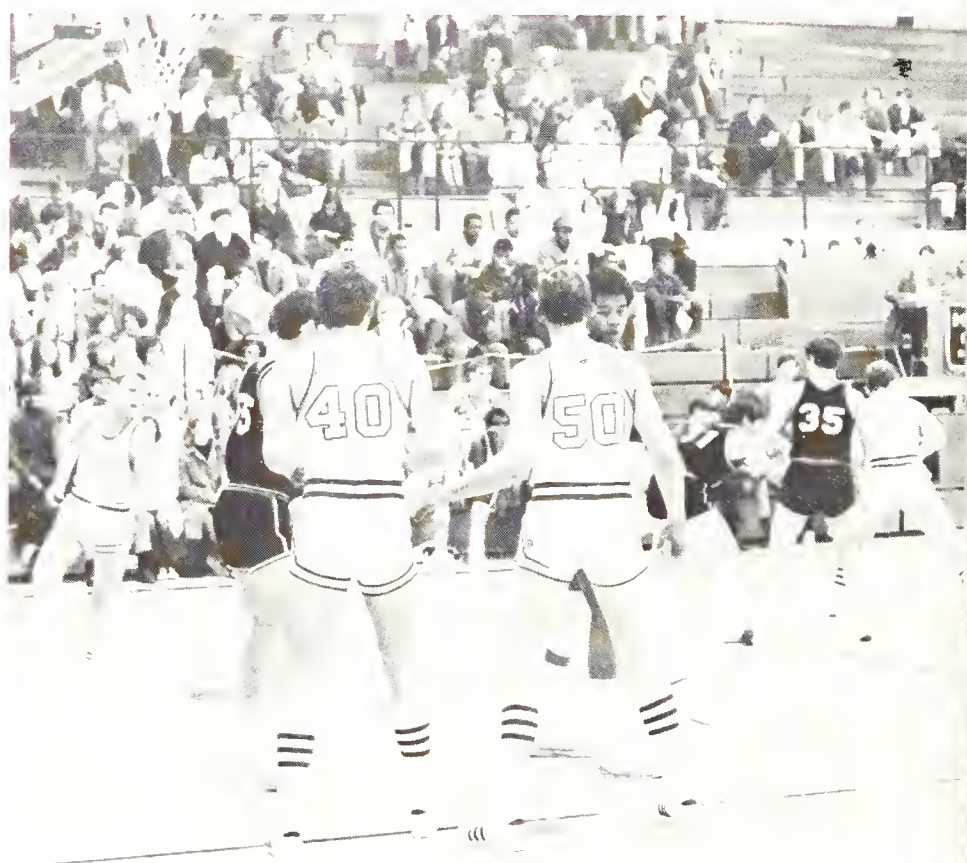

The basketball team, with Eldon Lawyer as the only returning letterman, closed the season with an overall record of 12 wins and 12 losses. In conference play the record was 6 wins and 8 losses with a total of 993 points scored against the opponents' 1047.

Co-eds initiate powderpuff football

On the night of Wednesday, November 19, the sophomore girls defeated the freshman girls 8-0 in the first powder puff football game. The sophomore coaches were Rod Dutt, Rusty Spindel, and Lyle Brandon. The freshmen were led by Harold Hughey, Rick Heise, and Henry Schirmer. Sophomore cheerleaders were Kelly Kiser, Jim Graham, and John Corman. Freshman boosters were Tom Musgrave, John Yarborough, and Craig Stephens.

Travel is playing an increasingly important function in education. Students now journey beyond the pages of textbooks to participate in numerous profitable activities. Drama students visited the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre and the Minnesota Dance Theatre located in Minneapolis, Minnesota. The cross country team flew to Pennsylvania to participate in the national finals. Education by travel, however, is not limited by miles. The working knowledge of business club members was enriched by visits to both a hospital and a missile base. Class sponsored art trips to KSTC enabled students to gain knowledge and evaluate their progress. Sometimes these trips have double value. 4-H members who traveled to Wellington to aid future leaders found themselves gaining practical experience. Faculty members disperse knowledge to future college students in career day activities.

Business club members study missile base equipment.

The "school bus" takes students on adventures that expand educational offerings.

Mr. Neville and Mr. John Anderson participate in Career Day activities at Yates Center.

A trip to Emporia allows art students to study the KSTC art program.

A tour of hospital facilities allows students to become better acquainted with the business world.

4-H members conduct leadership training at Wellington.

President Walbourn speaks at orientation.

Assemblies Create Interest

Enthusiasm and interest are shown by fellow students at assemblies. Orientations, sports, music, or guest speakers may provide the purpose for the gathering. Interest is cultivated for BCCJC students by assembly activities of various degrees.

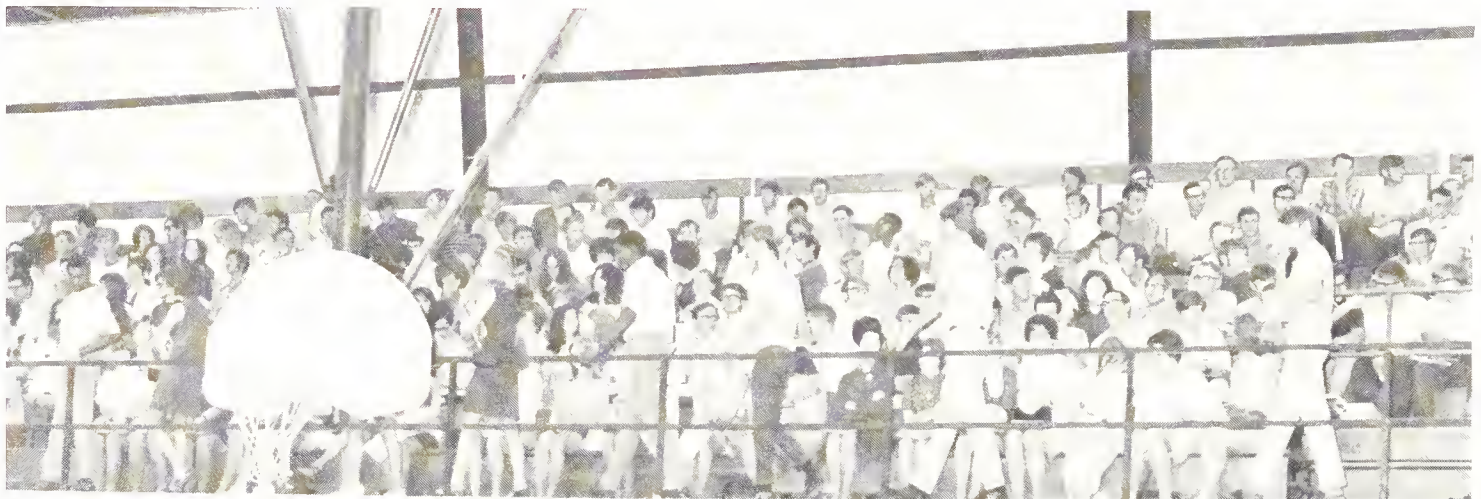

Cheerleaders demonstrate pep at assembly.

"Bones" Nay introduces the football squad.

A pep rally interests many.

The radio, given by the Veterans' Club, is drawn for by Karen Hartman.

Rod Dutt presents his choices for running mates at a campaign assembly.

Sophomores show vigor at powder puff assembly.

President Jeff Artz presents homecoming candidates for 1969.

Kim Richmond, guest performer, leads the band for the visiting high school students of surrounding Butler County.

John Morris introduces Mike Beckwith of W.S.U., who spoke to a number of students on black attitudes and actions.

Varied interests command attention

Typical of any term, this school year has involved people in a great variety of activities. Included here is only a small representation of otherwise unclassified events. Of noteworthy mention is the opportunity that music students have of studying on the new organ presented to the college late last year by the Robert G. Morrison family. Janice Osborne, below right, was one of the first students to study at the console.

Mr. Victor Salem, second semester speech instructor, studies map to plan first debate trip.

4-H Club members conduct story hour

Stage try-outs initiate spring theatre production of "Those Arabian Nights."

Janice Osborne practices organ lesson.

Programed learning center provides many profitable services.

Students crash line in pre-enrollment procedure.

Final enrollees make personal data changes.

Album

College is an interesting experience for students and instructors alike. Many events make up a year at college. At left, Johanna Van der Weele transforms Dale Neaville into a misshapen character for "The Deadly Game;" below, Mr. Arnold instructs a student. On the opposite page above, freshmen stand in seeming endless lines on enrollment day; below left, students find a place in the sun to relax and talk; below right, students and teachers wait for temperature readings in blood drive.

Edwin J. Walbourn

President

President Walbourn, in the performance of his administrative duties, has traveled to far places during the past year to attend meetings of special significance. As a result, additional offerings have been made possible at Butler County Community Junior College. In July, accompanied by Dean Cummins, he spent ten days in Europe investigating and examining the quality, content, and method of presentation of a foreign study program. He attended in Washington, D.C., the Federal Affairs Workshop that dealt with federal grants made to junior colleges. In another trip to Washington he participated in a seminar, sponsored by the Practicing Law Institute, where rights and problems of students were analyzed. Mr. Walbourn went to Honolulu in March to attend the annual convention of the American Association of Junior Colleges. And in April he was in Chicago for one of several trips to that city to attend meetings of the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities. There he made his final appearance before the Association in fulfilling the requirements for the school's accreditation in the Association.

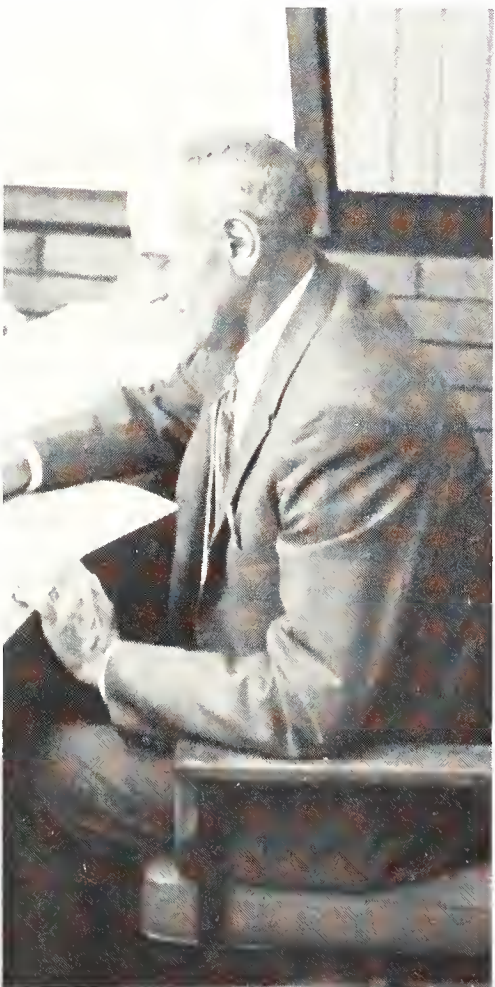

Marilynn Mettler

Administrators

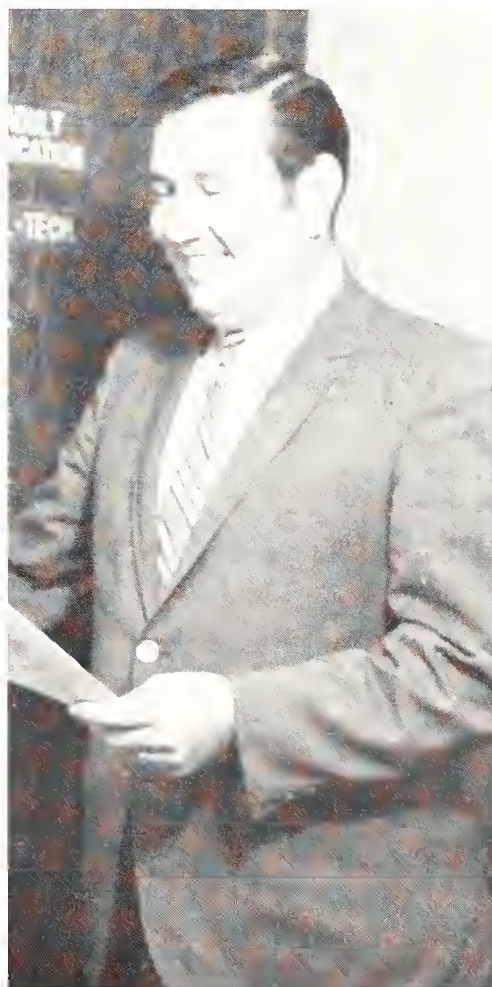

Personnel assigned to the administrative positions at Butler County Community Junior College have the responsibilities of correlating and scheduling the programs, making provisions for accepted curricula changes, and supervising the administrative tasks of the institution.

Mrs. Mettler, director of nursing, schedules working assignments with the cooperating hospitals in the nursing program. Mr. McKinney, registrar and director of admissions, is responsible for the receiving and dispensing of all student records. Mr. Wilson, dean of industrial education and adult education, provides for the supervision specially related to these areas. Mr. Cummins, academic dean, with Mr. Wilson, arranges all class schedules and works with instructors and students in many areas of educational involvement.

Instructional Staff

The administrative and instructional staff for Butler County Community Junior College represents a wide variety of training and experience. Students profit from this talent through person-to-person contacts in classes, activities, clubs, and the advisor-advisee program.

Board of trustees acts on student referendum

Early in the first semester, students in a referendum directed by the student council agreed to assess themselves an additional fee of five dollars per semester in order to improve parking facilities. Responding to this action, the board of trustees secured revenue bonds and contracted for the expansion and surfacing of the west parking lot. At the opening of school the board hosted a reception for faculty members and their spouses at the country home of Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Kassebaum. G. W. Hammel, M.D., was elected to the board at the spring election, and Eugene Brooks was named chairman.

Randy Vestring

Son of Mr. and Mrs. James Vestring of Burns, Randy was a 1969 graduate of Peabody High School. He died in a fatal car accident on November 5, 1969.

Gone before to that unknown and silent shore.
— Charles Lamb

Jeff Artz, student council president, and Mr. Kohls, faculty president, join President Walbourn in celebration festivities.

Junior college receives accreditation

On April 8, 1970, Butler County Community Junior College received accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The junior college had worked toward the North Central accreditation for the past four years. The accreditation is positive assurance that instruction of our junior college is high and that credits will transfer to all four-year schools in the United States. The state accreditation team visited campus on April 20-22, in the process of renewing the state accreditation, which is done every ten years. Receptions were held by the faculty and by the board for the administrators and staff in celebration of the honors.

Spring Supplement

The 1970 spring supplement of the yearbook, planned by the spring introduction to yearbook class, presents many of the major campus events. At left, "Those Arabian Nights" highlights the drama program; below, guest speaker, Vince Gibson, Kansas State coach, speaks to athletes at the annual sports banquets. On the opposite page, above, graduating sophomores join together for their last time as a class; lower right; Mike Penny passes the baton to Paul Graham in the mile relay; lower left, students dance to the sounds of "The Blue Things."

Track and Field Men Win Meets

Paul Graham, high hurdles.

The Grizzly track squad participated in eight spring track meets from Texas and Arkansas to various parts of Kansas. For the third consecutive year the Butler thin-clads won both the Butler County Invitational Meet and the Kansas Jayhawk Conference meet, breaking or tying records in several conference events. Butler County captured nine first places in conference competition.

Paul Graham won the conference championship in the high hurdles and Bill Robertson in the shot put; the mile relay team and the 440 relay team also placed first in the conference.

New conference records were established by John Corman in the mile run, by Jim Graham in the two-mile run, by Lloyd Tiffany in the javelin throw, and by Clardy Vinson in the 880-yard dash. John Corman, who placed second in the 880, also ran under the previous record time. Jack Crowder tied the conference record in the 440-yard dash.

Butler County holds the K.U. Relays record for the spring medley, team members being Crowder, W. L. Mitchell, Mike Penner, and Vinson.

Fifteen men qualified to enter the National Junior College meet at Garden City where competition was stiff and many existing junior college records were broken. Paul Graham placed sixth in that meet in the high hurdles.

Mile Relay Team: Cary Deiter, Mike Penney, Mark Scarlett, and Jack Crowder.

John Corman, mile.

Jack Crowder, 440.

Clardy Vinson, John Corman, 880.

Jim Graham, two-mile

Spring sports expanded

Three groups of students, involved in as many spring sports, drew increased attention to the multi-season college sports program.

Under the direction of Coach Remsberg, assisted by Coach Isom, 29 men participated in the track and field events. They attended eight meets, and with their coaches and other members of the college staff were hosts to the Butler County Invitational and the Jayhawk Conference meets, both of which they won.

Four men, with Coach Nay as their leader, entered a series of golf matches during the spring season. They placed seventh among 14 schools competing in the Jayhawk Junior College Conference golf meet held at the American Legion Golf Course in El Dorado in May.

For the first time at the college, several interested men organized a tennis intramural program with Coach Kohls as their official sponsor. These tennis enthusiasts played a series of sets on available courts to bring to the spring calendar one more sport that may gain future recognition.

Golf Squad: Mark Richardson, Coach Nay, Galen McArthur, John Crowe, and Frank Gerberding.

Tennis Squad: Tom Musgrave, Ed Briggs, Tom Knott, Steve Domann, Dick Price, Larry Ewart, and Doug Dennis.

Track Squad; FRONT: Larry Holt, Ed Brewer, Ed Merstetter, Doug Carrington, Mike Penney, Jim Stever, Tom Barr, John Elliott, Jim Graham; SECOND ROW: Keith Pharr, Paul Graham, Jack Crowder, W. L. Mitchell, Tony Anderson, Jim Knott, Chris Conner, Rick Heise, Gerald Wiens, Coach Remsberg; THIRD ROW: Manager Steve Pharr, Clardy Vinson, Waverly Thompson, Steve May, Paul Day, Cary Deiter, Mark Scarlett, Alan Stuart, Bill Robertson, Bill Dinkle, Lloyd Tiffany, John Corman, and Coach Isom.

Awards

Several students received awards for various achievements. Vicki Harvey and Dick Price were voted by fellow debaters at the National Junior College Forensics Meet as representatives of the finest qualities of inter-college forensics. Bowling, theatre, drill team, and a special Award of Merit were other prizes.

Larry Booth, Donna Keenan, Donna Cleaver, Scott Snyder, and Phil Church display winning bowling trophies.

Carol Gillette is named Miss Drill Team of 1970.

Mr. Patten presents Kevin Graves the Master Craftsman Award in Theatre.

Pres. Walbourn presents special Award of Merit to Dick Price for his contributions to the debate program.

Mr. Chism serves at the art exhibit open house.

Mr. Havel and Mr. Chism assist students with silk screen programs for the fine arts exhibit.

Fine Arts

The division of Fine Arts at Butler County Community Junior College brought to the students and the public the highlights of the academic year for each specific division.

Opening the second "Student Annual" on April 19, the music department presented a concert of instrumental and vocal selections, under the direction of Robert Anderson and J. Thomas Dixon, respectively.

On the following Sunday, the art student exhibit opened in the fine arts gallery, followed by a public reception, honoring the outstanding art students of the year, Robert Carter and Howard Jacobson.

The drama department presented two plays during the spring semester. A children's play, "Those Arabian Nights," toured in the general area and was presented to over seven thousand viewers during the short run of the play. To conclude the "Student Annual," the drama department presented the production of "J.B."

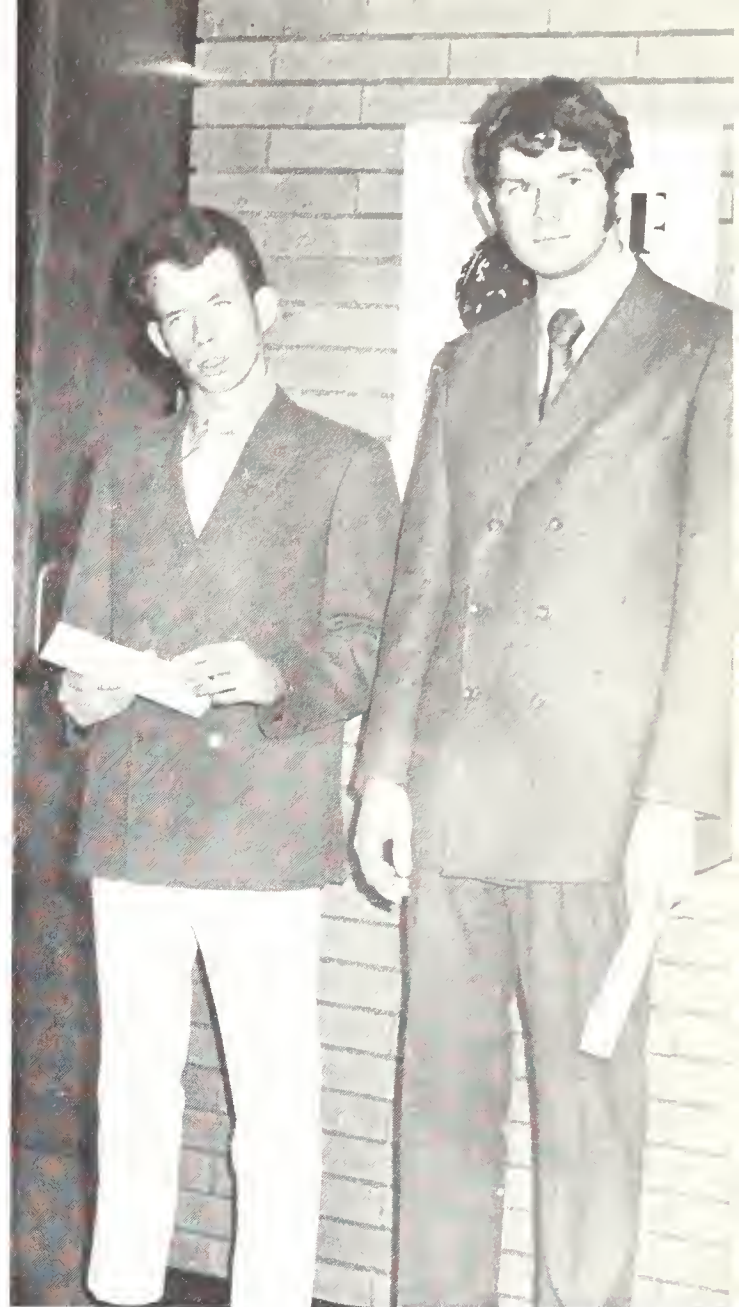

Steve Calloway, Jim Scribner, Jan Mountz, and Richard Hill, starred in the children's play "Those Arabian Nights."

Collegiate Singers represent the music department at the spring banquet.

Diana Hershberger, Dick Souders, David Longfellow, Richard Hill, Dale Neaville, Don Gilliland, and Patty Guy, in a portion of the cast from "J.B."

Howard Jacobson and Robert Carter were named "Outstanding" Art students for the year.

Special Events

Dick Price, Charlene Dreiling, and Vicki Harvey assume major tasks in managing annual Bluestem Debate Tournament.

Student body elected Council officers: Martha Brainard, Nancy Studebaker, Roger Frazier, president; Roger Burton, Carol Arrington, and La Donna Van Meter.

Candlelight and dozens of multicolored roses set the stage for the annual spring prom held May 9. Students, faculty, and honored guests, numbering 170, attended the affair. Among the speakers were Glen Cunningham, former world record miler of Kansas University, President E. J. Walbourn, and Jeff Artz, student council president and master of ceremonies. Entertainment was added by the Collegiate Singers and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clarkson, who sang a selection of popular songs including the theme "The Days of Wine and Roses." The prom, which highlighted the year's social activities, concluded with a dance with music by the Blue Things.

Academic Honors

President's Honor Roll

Order of the Purple

Thirty-four members of the 1970 graduating sophomores were named to the society. A student must have achieved a 3.25 grade point average on a 4.00 basis and must have been enrolled at Butler County Community Junior College for one full year. To date, 329 students in the history of the school have received certificates of memberships into the society. The faculty recognized these students with a dinner in the Blue Room May 5. Barbara Conrod and Debra Berens were named co-recipients of the Cron History Award, which Mr. Eugene Adams, representative of the Butler County Historical Society, presented at the Order of Purple banquet.

Commencement

The 1970 commencement exercises recognized 217 students who had completed requirements for their Associate Degrees. A unique portion of the graduating class is the group of nursing students who receive their degrees and are thus eligible to write the state board examination to become registered nurses. Kermit Pope had the distinction of being the first graduating male nurse at Butler County.

Another "first" was the use of caps and gowns, of a synthetic material, that became the souvenir of the graduate. At left Linda Allen gets assistance from Mr. McKinney in donning her gown. Above, the graduates are the center of attention as Dr. Gene Conklin, vice president of Sterling College, addresses the audience.
